Two sisters are lured into a link between the earthly and heavenly realms, as the younger sister calls forth her older sister from death. Realistic and abstract gestures blend, combining with a layered video environment, VEIL becomes an enchanting poem. Developing through a series of in-progress showings, residencies, a commissioned related project and community workshops, VEIL received a wonderful response spring 2019. The video screening of the project, has also brought excitement and interest in additional performances and screenings including Adishakti Theatre Lab and Arshiya Devi. A project with Pentacle's ASP program.
